

COMMUNITY EDUCATION

JULY - DECEMBER 2017

WKCTC is an equal educational and employment opportunity institution.

Thank you for taking the time to look through West Kentucky Community and Technical College's fall 2017 Community Education catalog. It's hard to believe we're already in our sixth year of creating the catalog. With the great feedback we've receive each year, we strive to improve the catalog, including its current online format. As always, printed copies of the catalog are available upon request. We continue to offer a variety of subjects for all ages, many you will recognize and several new choices as well. We encourage you to peruse the catalog often, and we're confident you will find a class or classes to your liking. At WKCTC, we are always looking for opportunities to better serve you. If you have ideas for classes, please contact Tina Carver at 270-534-3821 or tina.carver@kctcs.edu.

See you soon!

A Message from the President

I would personally like to invite you to take a moment and review the exciting array of fall 2017 Community Education courses offered through our Community Education Program. These courses are designed for your personal enrichment and interests. Community education is central to the Kentucky Community and Technical College System and the West Kentucky Community and Technical College mission of life-long learning and serving our community needs. I look forward to seeing you soon at WKCTC.

Sincerely,

Dr. Anton Reece
President
West Kentucky Community and Technical College

PRE-REGISTRATION

Pre-registration is required for all classes. Classes fill quickly so register early!

The registration deadline is seven business days prior to each class starting date. Register early so your class is not canceled due to lack of enrollment. Call to check the status of your class and where your class will meet. If you do not have a registration form, please send in your name, address, name of the classes you are registering in, daytime and cell phone numbers, and e-mail address. Make your check or Money Order payable to WKCTC and mail to:

Workforce Solutions
Emerging Technology Center
P.O. Box 7380
Paducah, KY 42002-7380

Community Education reserves the right to limit the enrollments or cancel any class due to insufficient enrollments. For this reason, please register early to reserve your place in the class of your choice. Every effort will be made to notify registrants that a class has been canceled. Registrants may choose alternate courses or receive full refunds. Space in a class is reserved on a first-come, first-served basis when a paid registration is received. Absolutely no saved spaces will be accepted.

In order to reduce paper waste, no registration confirmations or class reminders will be mailed.

Course meets four consecutive Tuesday evenings.

Beekeeping – Beginning the Process $85
November 7, 14, 21, and 28, 2017 6:00 – 8:00 p.m.
ETC, Room 140

Age: Adults Instructor: Kent Williams
Join Kent Williams, Eastern Apiculture Society certified Master Beekeeper as he discusses what to expect in the first year of keeping bees. Topics in this course will include potential for honey production; potential for colony loss; pitfalls to avoid and triumphs to exploit. Necessary equipment and supplies needed for keeping bees and the attending costs; and different methods of obtaining bees. Course will also cover equipment options; pros and cons; costs per hive for different hive types; yield potential vs labor needs relative to different type hives; equipment assembly workshop; basic economics of keeping bees and more. Course meets four consecutive Tuesday evenings.

Beekeeping courses disclaimer: These courses of study are not meant to promote any particular method of beekeeping over other methods, but is instead intended to promote beekeeping as a whole by giving a “real-world” picture of all aspects of honeybee management and to educate those involved in the study as to how to deal with the principle of “cause and effect” as it applies to each method of management. It is the intention that each participant comes away from these courses with the confidence that they can successfully manage their beekeeping project regardless of what type hive is used or what style of management is employed.*
