

West Kentucky Community & Technical College

Book Drive Competition

The Student Organization that collects the most books will be awarded a pizza party at one of the organization's meetings.

Final day to drop off new or slightly used books for ages 0-12 will be:

March 13, 2015

Collection box locations:

MLRC 10/11

AHB Lobby

“Leaping into Literacy”

“Leaping into Literacy” is a literacy effort that started in Paducah, KY under the title of R.E.A.C.H. (Reading Expands a Child’s Horizons), that links partnering agencies with the community to promote school readiness and impact poverty. The book project has found a way to support parents by providing books in public spaces frequented by children. Many families do not have any children’s books in their home, and as the books are replenished at each site frequently, no one is discouraged from taking the books with them. One more book in a child’s home will encourage a print-rich environment and promote language and literacy. Thank you for your support!

“Leaping into Literacy” Team Members

Megan Dotson

Greta Henry

Sanci Teague

Questions? (270) 534-3354

WKCTC is an equal educational and employment opportunity institution.

KENTUCKY COMMUNITY & TECHNICAL COLLEGE SYSTEM